

Mentor Biomedical Cluster: Contribute to our Success!

It's no secret that the Cleveland Clinic is a world class center of medical research, education, and treatment. However, it may surprise you to learn that it has helped forge a thriving biomedical cluster in the Greater Cleveland area.

It's a fact that over 700 medical and bioscience firms including world leaders such as General Electric, Siemens, Philips, Toshiba, Hitachi, and STERIS, are currently doing business in the Northeast Ohio region - which boasts one of the largest manufacturing economies in the USA.

The City of Mentor is located on the shores of Lake Erie just a 20-minute drive from downtown Cleveland. Mentor is home to over 325 manufacturing companies engaged in diverse activities including aerospace, advanced manufacturing, micro-machining, chemicals and polymers, precision coatings, advanced electronics and instrumentation, and medical imaging. Leading biomedical companies in the city include STERIS, Volk Optical, Frantz Medical Group, SourceOne Healthcare / MerryXRay, and Integrated Medical Solutions, to name just a few.

If you are a biomedical company considering expanding into the USA, it is difficult to beat Mentor as a base for your operations. Manufacturing costs are low and, by joining this well-established biomedical cluster, you will immediately benefit from the region's stable and experienced workforce. You will also receive a warm welcome from local government leaders who are pro-business and committed to ensuring the continued economic success of the city.
